Choosing the Right Trustee

When selecting a trustee, many people consider a trusted family member or a close friend for the role. However, these individuals may not be prepared to handle a trust effectively and rarely have a full understanding of the issues and responsibilities involved in the process. In many cases a corporate trustee adds a depth of resources and objectivity that an individual could not provide.

Before making a final decision, it is important to take an objective look at the situation and consider:

World-class Trust Services

Arden Trust can act as sole trustee or as co-trustee with the client, friend or relative. By appointing Arden Trust a corporate trustee, you will have a team of dedicated, full-time professionals working to administer your assets providing you with world-class trust services and ensure that your trust is:
